Meta made its own AI-generated clickbait news feed

The Verge AI +1 source

80%

Facebook has long been filled with feeds of clickbait articles. Now, Meta is making its own clickbait articles with AI. The standalone Meta AI app now has a "For You" section that populates a list of clickbait-style stories for you to read. But the topics, images, and text are...

Show HN: StructOCR - API for parsing global passports, invoices, and containers

HackerNews 50% HN 5

Hi HN, I built an AI-powered OCR API designed to extract highly structured JSON data from complex documents like global passports, IDs, receipts, and shipping containers. We recently rolled out our Python and Node.js SDKs. Just wanted to share it with the community.

Here comes new Siri again

The Verge AI 50%

Apple has been on its back foot, AI-wise, for the past few years. But in a strange way, playing from behind might not be such a bad move. At WWDC on Monday, Apple appears to be getting ready to reintroduce us to the new Siri. Again. As a reminder, we met the new Siri in [...]
