1 Show HN: Self-healing review gate and knowledge base for Claude Code (Beta)

We built Verity.md for the new era of loop engineering where traditional code review simply doesn't fit and is a major bottleneck. This is what we think the future of code review looks like: - An adversarial review layer, which is part SAST scanning for quality and security...

2 Infuriating Google commercial imagines the founding fathers embracing AI

"Group project, but make it 1776." That's how a new commercial for Google Workspace opens. And things only get cringier from there. The clip imagines what it would be like if the founding fathers turned to Google's collaboration tools and Gemini to help them draft the...
