Show HN: A Dark Cave - Minimalistic Graphics in the Age of AI Slop

HackerNews 50% HN 12

Almost a year ago I started building A Dark Cave, a dark text-based browser game. The game intentionally avoids visuals and embraces minimalism. I use only text, symbols, and sounds to create atmosphere and spark the player's imagination. From time to time, I think about adding...

Establishing AI and data sovereignty in the age of autonomous systems

MIT Tech Review 50%

When generative AI first moved from research labs into real-world business applications, enterprises made a tacit bargain: "Capability now, control later." Feed your proprietary data into third-party AI models, and you will get powerful results. But your data passes through...
